Mobility Matters 2021

Grab your map and your sense of adventure for this year's Mobility Matters! Get ready for a virtual, accessible trip to a national treasure in the Pacific Northwest, historic Fort Vancouver! Portland State University's College of Education is excited to reprise this 4th annual interdisciplinary summit with a focus on exploring our national treasures through accessible virtual field trips.

Educators, curators, urban planners, O&M Specialists, civil engineers, and all those that are interested in accessible recreation and learning are welcome to join us. Special guests include students and faculty from schools for the blind who will add to the dialogue about accessible learning and mobility for all.
